Concluding Comments

“During the last 50 years the livestock industry in the developed world, generously supported by government research, development and advisory services, has been hugely successful in producing all the food we need, with a steady improvement in real quality and a steady reduction in real cost.”

(Webster, 1994)

“Retailers are becoming the most potent force in setting animal welfare standards and will be the major engine for influencing animal welfare change. They can move faster than Governments, can cut off a supplier’s livelihood by stopping contracts and can ignore international trade agreements.”
While Europe as a whole has to adhere to the World Trade Organisation and cannot bar imports on animal welfare grounds, retailers are free to do so.” (Spedding, 2000)

“CITIZENS DESIRE WHILE CONSUMERS DICTATE”

Conclusion
• Production Driven vs Market Responsive
• Incremental Science-based Change Management
• Ownership and Buy-In
• OIE Leadership Role
• OIE and Stakeholder Collaboration
